Dear Customer,

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Thank you for helping us celebrate our 125th anniversary in August! The homemade ice cream was a big hit! We sincerely appreciate your business!

Fraud schemes continue to increase, and fraudsters are expanding the ways they try to get your private information. NEVER give someone who calls you your account number, social security number or other personal information. If you are being threatened or someone is demanding payment, it's fraud. If something sounds too good to be true, most of the time it is. Give us a call or stop by one of our locations and let us help you verify questionable transactions or requests for your personal information.

We will be out at many football games and community events this fall, we hope to see you there!

Our next quarterly newsletter will be January 1, so we want to wish you all a very happy and safe Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas. We wish you and your families all the best!

God Bless!

Smart Holiday Budgeting: Celebrate Without the Debt Hangover

The holiday season brings joy, but it can also bring unexpected expenses. With a little planning, you can enjoy the festivities without worrying about your January bank statement. Here are three practical ways to keep your spending on track:

- Set a “Hard” Cap: Before you buy your first gift, write down a specific total dollar amount you are comfortable spending. Include gifts, decorations, travel and holiday meals.
- Use the “Gift List” Method: List every person you intend to buy a gift for and assign a strict maximum dollar amount to each name. Stick to it-no exceptions.
- Track in Real-Time: Don’t wait until the end of the month to look at your balances. Check your mobile app after every shopping trip to see exactly how much remains in your holiday budget.

Watch Out for Holiday Package Delivery Scams

Fraud spikes during the peak shopping season. Lately, criminals are sending fake text messages and emails that look like official notifications from delivery services (such as USPS, FedEx, or UPS). These messages usually claim that a package cannot be delivered due to an incorrect address or an unpaid fee. They will ask you to click a link and enter your debt or credit card information.

How to stay safe:

- Never click links in unexpected texts or emails about deliveries
- Track packages directly on the official website where you bought the item, or type the carrier’s official web address directly into your browser.

Remember: Our bank will never text you to ask for your PIN, password, or one-time verification codes.

Your Year-End Financial To-Do List

Wrap up the year on a strong note with these quick financial moves before December 31:

- Review Charitable Giving: Keep track of your donations and receipts if you plan to claim them on your upcoming tax return.
- Check Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA): Many FSA funds expire at the end of the year. Check your balance so you don't lose money you've already set aside.

- Update Beneficiaries: Take five minutes to review the beneficiaries listed on your bank and retirement accounts to ensure they are up to date.
